In Honor Of Fall

Biblical Scripture Compilation By God And

Richie Heinlein

(In God I Trust And Write)

Exact Topic: The Walls Come Down And

We Are Felled

In honor of Fall, let's look at some scriptures about falling (the good sense).

First, we have The Fall Of Jericho: Joshua 5: 13--6.

This is interesting as we are talking about the walls that Satan builds. Jericho was at this time a wicked city. God gave this city to the righteous Joshua and company.

In our day we also have our "walls of Jericho". They are very real, but they are spiritual. They fall the same way. They will fall because of our faith in Christ. All who are inside (unfortunately) will be crushed by the crumbling walls if they don't come to God before it is too late (we are talking about giving control over to God before he destroys their comfortable prison of sin etc. (This may not mean loss of salvation in some cases even though there is an allusion to it. It means we have made our lives a living mess--a lot of people like it that way).

Some people must for some reason ruin their lives and God has to literally break people to pieces in order to build them up strong and righteous. Sometimes, this means life threatening injury or spiritual crisis. God must fell us in order to save us. God has a way of redeeming those who are willing. Our faith in Christ destroys these walls and we will persevere.

Secondly, Matthew 13: 30-34 states that the kingdom of God sort of works slowly, but effectively. We start out with a little bit of the Kingdom and it grows huge and really strong (guess what that does to the devil's kingdom since his kingdom is no match for God--yup you guessed it, this makes his kingdom fall and get blown away).

Thirdly, Mark 4: 26-29 states that we may not know how this seed grows, but we know that there will be a bountiful harvest. The Fall season the way I understand it is harvesting time for grain. God's kingdom is like this we may not even know who we plant seeds into or if they pay attention to us, but we plant seeds. We may not know how the seed will grow in a person or who it will grow in, but rest assured, it grows. Eventually there will be a harvest of 30, 60, 100 times (read Mark 4: 8, 20 for the verses)

Fourth, if we actually look at the parable of the sower in Mark 4: 1-20, this makes even more sense because Jesus talks about this.

We clearly will not succeed with everyone, but Jesus tells us to sow, sow, sow and never quit. In faith we pray for the seed to find hearts that are fertile and God to break stony hearts and give them hearts of flesh.

(Ezekiel 11: 19; Ezekiel 36: 26).

Keep the faith. Run the race. Fight the good fight. We are slaves to righteousness (I am alluding to I Corinthians 9: 24-27 and II

Timothy 4: 1-7)
