

Spiritual Dream Sequence VI

On Fri. Jul. 8 2005, I had a strange and scary dream about China. This dream started out with what looked like Revolutionary War sketches of army placements. It showed General Corn Wallace's death. This dream then shifted to what looked like our Civil War. Our war was about slavery vs. free and textiles vs. agriculture. This dream then shifted to what looks like future China. It appears like in this dream, that the Chinese will have a Civil War and it will be about communism vs. democracy. It looks like the dream suggests that the U.S. will try to change China's form of government slowly but surely. The country's people catch what the U.S. is doing in this dream and take sides. Half want communism and half want democracy and go to war. Each side takes other countries as allies and global war breaks out. A news report in the dream said that the fighting in China has turned the Yellow Sea into the “Blood Sea”. The news report showed an image of this with a reenactment of the fighting, complete with blood and the sea getting lots of blood in it. Out of all of this, the U.S. makes enemies and we get a plague of diseases because of biological warfare. I, being shown all of this, thought in this dream that the U.S. was an idiotic nation because of trying to change a country that wasn’t ready to be changed. I said in the dream “The U.S. is an idiot”. God replied, “Sometimes they are.” There the dream ends.
